1. What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your device when you visit a website. They help the website remember your actions or preferences over time and can enhance your experience by providing more personalized services.

Cookies are widely used to make websites work, or to work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the site's owners.

- Performance Cookies: These cookies help us understand how visitors interact with our website, such as which pages are visited the most or if users experience errors. These cookies help us improve the performance of our website.
- Functionality Cookies: These cookies remember your preferences (such as language settings or the region you are in) to offer you a more personalised experience.
- Advertising/Targeting Cookies: These cookies are used to deliver advertisements relevant to you based on your behaviour on our site or across other sites. We may use these to target ads or limit how often you see them.

3. Cookies Set by Wix

As our website is hosted by Wix, the Wix platform may set certain cookies to support the website's functionality, including analytics cookies and essential cookies. Wix uses cookies to collect data on website performance, visitor interactions, and to store your preferences. The data is collected in an anonymous form.
